Contractor sues schools

By THEODORE G. COUTILISH
ANP News Editor

A dispute over the amount of work performed by the contractor of a gas tank removal project for the Romulus Community Schools may cost taxpayers thousands of dollars to settle in court.

Richard Rubin, owner of Delta Petro Service Co. Inc. in Clawson, blasted school officials this week for reneging on their contract. He said they have compounded the matter by forcing him to file a lawsuit seeking $104,000 from the schools.

"I've never seen what I see down there in 40 years of dealing with elected public officials," Rubin said. "It's a disgrace and a disaster to the taxpayers."

What Rubin is upset about is failure of the schools to pay him for removal last fall of two underground 10,000-gallon gas storage tanks and installation of two new ones at the Department of Public Works. The gas tanks are used primarily for school buses.

Stipulated in their contract, the schools would pay Delta $53,342, unless unusual soil conditions existed.

They did, Rubin said. Water sand forced the company to excavate more land than expected, and increase the original contract price, Rubin said. He would not give specifics on how much water sand was excavated or how much new sand was brought to the site.

At the time of the discovery, the company could not stop the project because the water sand threatened the safety of the nearby DPW building, Rubin said.

"We presented a change order to the school board, but they refused to sign it," he said. "We couldn't stop, so we proceeded in good faith."

Schools Superintendent William Bedell criticized Rubin for charging the schools an excessive amount and for not communicating the soil problem after the project had started.

"We can't let people come in here and double their contract to get a better deal," Bedell said. "Why didn't he come to us in the first place?"

Worse yet, Bedell doesn't believe Rubin's company hauled the amount of sand it is claiming. He said if it did, it would have kept copies of dump tickets.

"My suspicion is Rubin didn't do what he claims," Bedell said. "He's got to prove it now. I don't care what the legal fees are, you can't come in and double a contract."

Meanwhile, lawyers on both sides have made offers within $5,000 of a settlement. The schools offered $80,000, while Delta countered with $85,000. Neither side has budged any closer yet.

"It's nonsense to pay the extra $5,000 and save the legal fees," Bedell said. "We owe Petro $53,000, not $80,000. The legal fees are worth the gap."

Mourners riled

City rule ignites memories of Flight 255 crash

By THEODORE G. COUTILISH
ANP News Editor

The Romulus welcome wagon is apparently no longer in service for mourners who observe a painful anniversary at the site of the Northwest Flight 255 disaster.

At least that's what families and friends of crash victims are convinced after meeting last Saturday to discuss ways of abiding a new city policy.

Councilmembers last May unanimously approved the policy, which requires $1 million proof of liability insurance before any memorial service or gathering can take place in Romulus. Other policy requirements include portable toilets if 20 or more people are attending and a $500 cash bond for site cleanup.

For the past two years, the Flight 255 support group, "Their Spirit Lives On," has gathered at the crash site, near Interstate-94 and Middlebelt, to remember the 156 people who died in the crash.

Members of the group claim they can't afford insurance, although none knew what the cost of the liability certificate would be. They say it may put an end to the Aug. 16 memorial service.

"We don't know a price yet, but we know we can't afford insurance," said Betty Polec, a Mt. Clemens resident who lost her daughter and son-in-law in the crash.

"I want to cooperate, but the city keeps putting up hurdles," she said. "It's really a shame."

We would gladly change shoes with anyone in the city. I'm sure we will be there, insurance or no insurance."

Other support group members seem convinced the city is trying to discourage them.

"Why else would they have this policy?" said Tony Zanger Jr., a Sterling Heights resident who lost his brother and his brother's fiancée in the crash.

"We're dealing with some cold hearts and closed minds. All we are asking is for the city to give us a couple of hours one day a year. Is that asking too much?"

The support group is the first organization to come under the policy, according to City Clerk Linda Choate.

The insurance certificate would free the city from any responsibility for accidents or damages that occur during the event, Choate said.

"I know these people are hurting, but not one of them live in this town," she said. "They don't realize how they've hurt the residents here with their memorial services. You don't go to a hospital where a family member died and make a shrine three years

Dog-fighting case may be 1st in city

By THEODORE G. COUTILISH
ANP News Editor

Police confiscated four pit-bull terriers and shot and killed another early Sunday morning in what may prove to be the first incident of dog fighting in Romulus.

The dogs were found at 1:25 a.m. in a barn behind a home on the 37000 block of Wick Road, between Wayne and Ozga roads, according to detective Sgt. Dan Snyder.

Police took the names and addresses of approximately 20 people at the barn, but made no arrests, Snyder said.

"We found what appears to be animal blood on the carpet, make-shift bleachers and the pit bulls," Snyder said. "To my knowledge, we've never had a case like this one."

When one of the dogs tried escaping, police shot and killed it, according to Snyder.

"The dog was injured and bleeding, and any animal that presents a danger to the community must be stopped," Snyder said.

The dog will undergo an autopsy this week to determine the nature of the wounds.

Police would not release the name of the homeowner, who lives in New York, or the names of current renters.

The case is still under investigation.

Wick Road project hailed as 'great victory'

By THEODORE G. COUTILISH
ANP News Editor

City officials last week hailed the completion of the Wick Road construction - the first part of an $8.3-million site improvements - as a victory for Romulus.

"We had enough people tell us we couldn't complete the project," said Mayor Beverly McAnally during ribbon-cutting ceremony festivities. "This is a great day for our city."

The road project, which started in late 1989, will provide access to approximately 800 acres of vacant land north of Interstate-94. The two-lane concrete road is expected to cost the city $1.3 million.

The second phase of the project will include installation of water lines, sanitary and storm sewers and landscaping.

Metro World Centre, the Ann Arbor development company that owns the vacant land, has targeted the area for office, hotel, retail and multi-residential family projects. The projects may take up to five years to complete, said Mike Richards, Metro executive vice president.

"Wick Road is the spring for us to begin building," Richards said. "It provides the critical access we need to the area."

Funds for the road project will be paid through the sale of bonds last year by the Tax Increment Finance Authority. In turn, the additional tax dollars generated by new investments from Metro World are expected to cover the costs of the bonds. In other words, no tax dollars outside of that area are expected to be used to pay for the improvements.

"Not many jobs can be created by bean fields," McAnally said. "What this means to the city is a greater tax base, more employment opportunities for younger people and a new atmosphere of the modern world in our community."

CITY OF ROMULUS

CHAPTER 32

ARTICLE II

An ordinance of the City of Romulus, providing that the code of ordinance of the City of Romulus be amended by revising Chapter 32, Article II, Section 32-12(c), 32-16(a), 32-20 and by creating a new Section 32-21, providing for construction of sidewalks, appeals, process and alternatives to the construction of sidewalks.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

Section 1: This ordinance shall be known as the amended sidewalk ordinance.

Section 2: To amend Section 32-129(c) to read as follows:

Section 32-12. Sidewalk Construction Requirements.

(c) Right-of-way Limitations. Wherever possible, the Department of Building and Safety shall direct that the construction of the sidewalk be on a line parallel with the edge of the proposed road right-of-way; that it be contained within that right-of-way; and that its inside edge be one (1) foot from the edge of the road right-of-way.

Section 3: Amend Section 32-16(a) to read as follows: subsections (b) and (c) remain unchanged.

Section 32-16. Ordering Construction.

(a) Sidewalks to be provided. The City herewith mandates that all developments that require site plan approval shall provide sidewalks as part of their site improvements. The City Planning Commission, during site plan review, may make a determination that a payment-in-lieu of construction can be placed in the sidewalk escrow account. The payment-in-lieu and escrow account shall be set per the requirements of Section 32-21 of this Ordinance.

Section 4: Amend Section 32-20 to read as follows:

Section 32-20. Sidewalk Appeals.

(a) The Zoning Board of Appeals may vary the construction specifications of this Ordinance.

(b) The Zoning Board of Appeals may make a determination that a payment-in-lieu of construction can be placed in the sidewalk escrow account.

(c) The Zoning Board of Appeals may waive or grant a variance for construction of a sidewalk and payment-in-lieu of construction only under the following conditions:

(1) A road right-of-way exists, but there is no road physically constructed at this time.

(2) The property is adjacent to a freeway or grade separation and pedestrian traffic would not be encountered.

(3) Within a proposed industrial subdivision, sidewalks could be provided on one side only or eliminated on interior roads. Such a determination shall not be made without a recommendation from the Planning Commission. The Planning Commission, in making their recommendation, shall consider the density within the park and the potential urbanization in surrounding areas projected over the next decade.

(4) All waivers which are granted, shall be submitted to the City Council for their information. The report to Council shall include the name of the property owner, the location and the circumstances and facts under which the waiver was granted.

Section 5: Create a new Section 32-21 to read as follows:

Section 32-21.

A. Alternatives to the Construction of Sidewalks.

(a) A payment-in-lieu of actual sidewalk construction as permitted by this Ordinance shall be a certain sum of cash money deposited in the sidewalk escrow account by the applicant to cover the cost of construction. The amount of the escrow deposit shall be determined by the Department of Building and Safety, which shall be equivalent to the estimate of construction cost which would be incurred at today's cost and shall include any fees set by the City.

(b) The sidewalk escrow account shall be established by the City Council and administered by the City Treasurer. All fees deposited in the account shall be reserved in that account and used only for the construction and/or repair of public sidewalks.

(1) A ledger account shall be established recording each property that has deposited a sidewalk payment-in-lieu of construction.

(2) Funds will be rebated or released to that property owner only when he or she has completed a sidewalk built to City standards on that property. Such rebate will not include any interest earned.

(3) A payment made and recorded for a property shall assure that owner and subsequent owners (if any) that the City shall not assess that property at any future date for sidewalks if the escrow funds have been used to construct other sidewalks in the City.

(c) The City may order the construction of public sidewalks and pay for such with funds available in the Sidewalk Escrow Account. The City shall, however, be liable for the provision of sidewalks for those properties in the escrow account.

(d) Interest earned by this account shall remain in the escrow account.

B. Covenant or Contract for Future Construction.

(a) A second alternative to the current construction of a sidewalk is for the owners to covenant or contract with the City of Romulus to defer the installation of the required sidewalk to a later date to be established by the City Council.

(b) The City Council, after a recommendation by the Director of the Department of Building, Safety and Engineering, shall determine that this alternative variance is appropriate subject to the following conditions:

(1) The owner agrees to install the sidewalks as required by a site plan when and if the City Council determines that such sidewalks must be installed in the interest of public safety.

Such sidewalks shall be installed within 120 days after notice by the City Council.

(2) If the owner fails to timely install such sidewalks, the City may proceed to install some and assess the cost of said installation against the subject site pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of Act 188 Public Acts of 1954, as amended.

(3) The owner will provide in the contract that his action constitutes a petition pursuant to and in accordance with Act 188, supra, and therewith waives any and all hearings, notices of hearing and/or other requirements preliminary to the establishment of a lien against said land for recovery of the actual costs incurred by the City for the design and installation of said sidewalks as required by said Act 188, supra.

(4) The contract shall be recorded with the Wayne County Register of Deeds and shall be deemed to be a covenant running with the land binding upon the parties hereto, their successors and assigns.

Section 6. PENALTY FOR VIOLATION.

In the event any person shall violate any of the provisions of this Ordinance, he shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00), or by imprisonment for a term not to exceed ninety (90) days, or by both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Section 7. REPEALER.

All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this ordinance full force and effect.

Section 8. EFFECTIVE DATE

This ordinance shall take effect immediately upon publication in the Romulus Roman, a newspaper of general circulation in the City of Romulus.

I, Linda R. Choate, CMC, Clerk, for the City of Romulus, Michigan do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance duly adopted by the Romulus City Council at its regular meeting held on the 9th day of July, 1990.

Linda R. Choate, CMC
Clerk, City of Romulus, Michigan

ATTEST: Beverly McAnally, Mayor

Within forty five (45) days after publication of any ordinance duly passed by the Council, a petition may be presented to the Council protesting against such ordinance continuing in effect. Said petition shall contain the text of such ordinance and shall be signed by not less than six percent (6%) of the registered electors registered at the last preceding election at which a Mayor of the City was elected. Said Ordinance shall thereupon and thereby be suspended from operation and the Council shall immediately reconsider such ordinance.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

Camping trip is scheduled

Children ages 8 to 14 are invited to participate in a rustic camping trip sponsored through the Romulus recreation department, according to programming coordinator Tina Bertschinger.

The camp will be Aug. 10 through 12 at the Island Lake Recreation Area in Milford.

Those interested must register at the recreation department before Aug. 3. The cost of the trip is $20.

Volleyball event set

Serve, volley and spike with the best at the Beach Volleyball Tournament Aug. 11 and 12 at the Elmer Johnson Park on Ozga Road.

The event is hosted by the Romulus recreation department.

Bicycle fun run is slated

A non-competitive bicycle fun ride will begin at 9 a.m. Aug. 4. Bicyclists will begin the 12-mile, round trip trek at the Romulus recreation building, then pedal along the Interstate-275 bike path to McDoan's.

After a stop for breakfast, the group will return to Romulus.

Movies in the park

Residents are invited to lounge in the park and enjoy movies with the family.

"In Search of Castaways" will be presented as the sun goes down. On Aug. 7 the movie will be shown at Merriman Park, and on Aug. 8 the movie can be enjoyed at Fernandez Park.

Those attending are invited to bring snacks for munching.

Leader is chosen

Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally has been elected to serve as city/village bloc chairwoman of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

SEMCOG membership is divided into four blocs. The city/village bloc, for example, consists of all cities and villages in southeast Michigan that are SEMCOG members.

McAnally also serves as chairwoman of the SEMCOG community and economic development advisory council.

SEMCOG is a voluntary association of counties, villages, townships, intermediate school districts and community colleges in the seven-county southeast Michigan region.

later. You would get kicked. I feel sorry for the families. At the same time, we are innocent victims. People here have to live with this every day."

Councilman Noah Bergeron agreed.

"They leave our intersection like a graveyard and then they go home," he said. "We have to live with it. We didn't give Northwest permission to crash a plane on the freeway. We're getting the blame. It's morbid to go over to that section of town. I can remember seeing body parts all over the place. Frankly, I want to forget about it."

The city pays significantly to the memorial service, Choate said. It costs the city about $2,000 last year in overtime for police and Department of Public Works crews.

"We have offered them other options such as land for a memorial site, but they have rejected them all," Choate said.

Still, councilmembers recently asked permission from the county to close off northbound Middlebelt Road from Wick Road to I-94 along with the eastbound entrance ramp for I-94 from northbound Middlebelt.

"As far as I know, the vigil is still on for Aug. 16," Choate said. "We will continue as planned."

Reactions mixed to razing of old school

By THEODORE G. COUTILISH
ANP News Editor

William Bedell can't seem to please anybody.

The Romulus Community Schools superintendent has come under heavy scrutiny recently by opposing groups regarding the future of the old Romulus High School building and more recent Beacon Center on Olive Street.

On one side, neighbors believe Bedell and the school board are dragging their feet in making a decision. They say the vacant school building should be demolished because it is an eyesore and has a negative impact on area homes.

"It's deteriorating my property value," said Jan Lemmon of 36897 Porter St., just 10 houses away from the school. "If we wanted to sell, who would want to buy a home with a boarded up building on the same street. I also heard from neighbors that they caught bums sleeping in the school."

On the other side, residents argue repairing the 60-year-old building would be more prudent. They reason that spending $2 million to repair the school is better than spending $50 million to build new schools.

"The building is in decent shape and can still be used," said Fred Hay, who lives less than two miles from the building. "The school is in the center of the community, and we have a large need for meeting rooms. A lot of clubs and organizations don't have any place to go now. The school would be perfect for them."

Bedell said the building is for sale, but hasn't attracted much interest so far. The problem is the building contains cancer-causing asbestos fibers and a broken boiler.

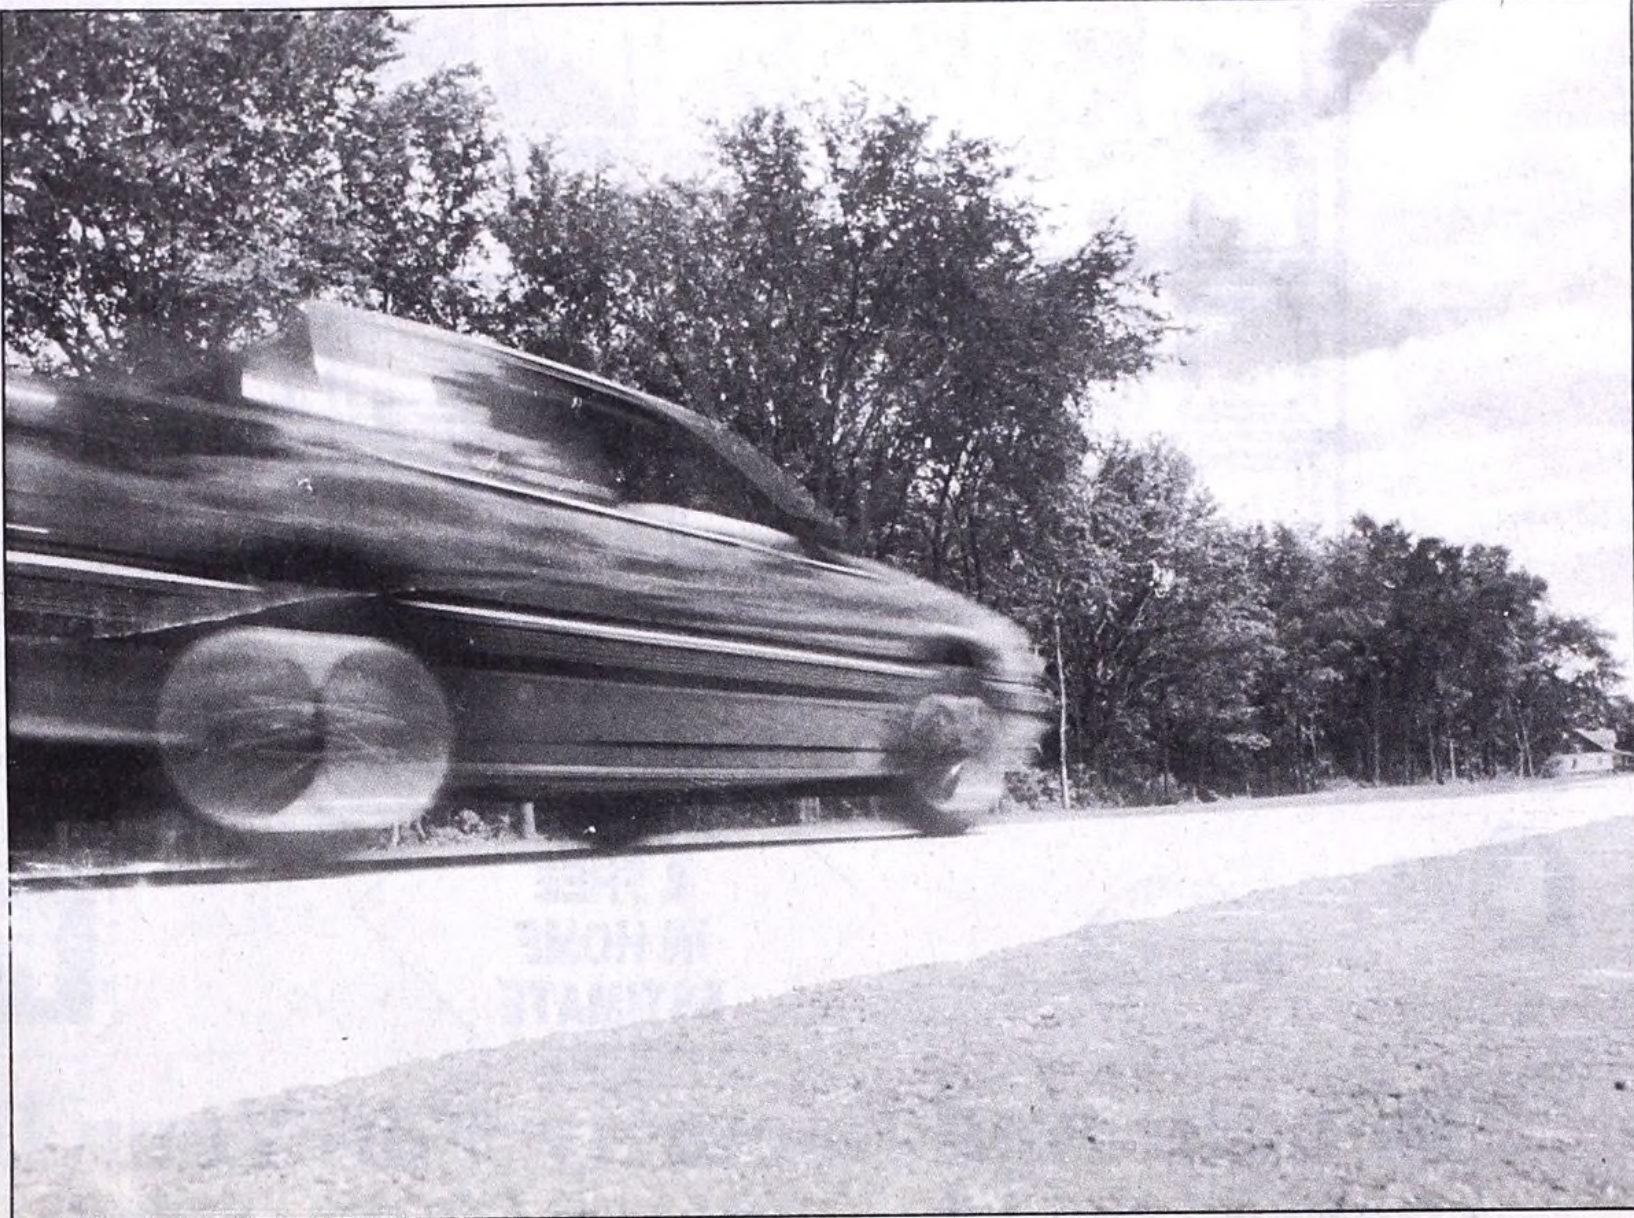

So unless someone comes up with a legitimate plan for the building, including removing the asbestos and fixing the boiler, the school board will have it demolished next summer, Bedell said.

"If that happens, we will probably make it into a park," he said. "Something useful to the community."

That solution is still not good enough for either side.

"Why wait until next summer to tear it down when the cost of its demolition will go up and taxpayers will have to pay more?" Lemmon said.

"What does (Bedell) care what happens to this community," Hay said. "He doesn't live in Romulus."

Highway to success

Chief's benefits issue resolved, mayor says

By MARY SHIRODA
ANP Special Writer

The matter is resolved, according to Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally.

At issue recently was a deal struck between the mayor and Police Chief Fred Dansby. Dansby, a retired police chief from Westland, chose not to take medical benefits from Romulus. McAnally agreed to give him additional pay in lieu of the benefits.

"It was an administrative matter that was blown out of proportion," she said. "Had the issue come to a vote I could have prevailed."

McAnally said the city attorney assured her she was acting appropriately in the matter.

Dansby will continue to receive extra payments, rather than Blue Cross hospitalization coverage, which totals approximately $2,380 every six months.

The dispute over Dansby's salary began when City Councilmember Noah Bergeron threatened to sue the city on the grounds that the cash payments to Dansby were an unnecessary use of taxpayers' money.

However, there were other councilmembers who viewed the police chief's salary agreement as an administrative matter.

"Money's money regardless of how you pay it," said City Councilmember Ellis Pennington.

Dansby's salary, he said, was a matter negotiated between the city council and the department leaders.

"If they start to pay him more than what was agreed on, then I have a quarrel," Pennington said. "Right now I don't have a quarrel."

The additional pay which Dansby receives as a result of the Waived benefits, brings his salary closer to that which he received in Westland, McAnally said.

rooms throughout the state this fall.

A total of 456 school districts including Wayne-Westland, Inkster and Romulus, will receive computer equipment for their classrooms.

The classrooms selected will receive a basic package including a personal computer with one-mega byte memory, a dot-matrix printer and an integrated software package.

The state board invited teachers across the state, who don't use computer technology in their daily instruction, to submit an application to receive a computer for their classroom, according to Deb Small, instructional technology specialist.

Applicants selected to receive computers answered questions regarding planned instructional use, target who will benefit from the computer use and describe the learning which would take place, Small said.

Of the 24,063 teachers who applied, 8,027 met the program guidelines.

Depending on the school district and their existing equipment, teachers will have a variety of uses for the computers.

Some of the classroom computer uses include math and social studies applications.

"One district will use their computer equipment in conjunction with modems connected to NASA, which monitor worldwide weather conditions," Small said.

Other districts have existing telecommunications equipment, and the additional equipment will help their operation, she said.

The basic configuration of computer, printer and software package will not deviate for the selected schools.

Teachers, who receive the computers, will undergo training in August from the four vendors involved with the program: Apple, IBM, Tandy and Zenith, Small said.

All the equipment will have a one-year warranty, she added.

Local school districts collected the $17.8 million for the program through bonds and installment contracts.

The state will reimburse the school districts through a debt retirement plan approved by the state legislature, Small said.

"The state legislature appropriated $2 million in 1989. The next four years, we'll ask the legislature for a $4 million payment and $2 million for the last payment," Small said.

When the state pays the bonds, the school districts will have cost-free computers.

Although the state legislature has approved the monies for 1989, it still must approve the bond retirement money for the next four years, or the school districts will foot the bill, according to Small.

"Education must change and we want to be on the forefront of that change," said Cherry Jacobus, president of the state board. "The Classrooms of Tomorrow program is another important step in bringing computers and other instructional technology to Michigan teachers and students."

Information sought in hit-and-run

By BARBARA GOFFMAN
ANP Special Writer

Taylor police officials are looking for witnesses of a July 20 hit-and-run homicide at 8000 Telegraph Rd., south of I-94. Catherine Irvine, 65, of Melvindale, was walking on Telegraph at 1:40 p.m. when a black male in a white, Ford pick-up truck drove by and grabbed her purse, Detective David Hayne said.

Irvine was dragged for an undetermined distance before she was run over and killed, he said.

Witnesses recalled the truck as a 1975-1979 model. Anyone with information is urged to call Hayne at 374-1397.

He is an active member of the East Michigan Environmental Action Council, League of Women Voters, Goodfellows, Polish-American Congress and a trustee of the Michigan State Library.	Burl C. Adkins, 38, is a six-year resident of Southgate, having previously resided in Woodhaven. He is married to Deborah and they have two children. He attended Southgate High School and Wayne County Community College. He is self-employed at Global Technology Associates Ltd. Adkins was a representative for the 15th district in 1986. He is an active member of the Southern Wayne County Chamber of Commerce, National Rifle Association, American Legion, American Society of Body Engineers and Michigan Back to Basics.

I was approached by members of the Republican party who reside within the district who are aware of my approach to government representation. After lengthy discussion, I felt that I could contribute to resolving the concerns that are within the various communities within the district and help to address those concerns at the county level. There exists no greater motivation as an elected official, than to have obtained the trust and support of residents who know that you will work for them, work for their best interest, and solicit your skills to run for a position that can have such a vast impact on their communities.	I decided to seek the office of county commissioner in the 11th district to bring new life to a part of county government that has fallen asleep at the table. I'm not, nor are my constituents, a bit pleased about the level of service that the county is providing the 11th district. I'll use my talents- my ability to listen to the residents, my leadership, my problem-solving abilities and my verve to work with the county government and the board of commissioners to change the posture from passive or semi-active to a positive proactive stance - working to provide services to the taxpayers.	To serve residents of 12th Senate District as I have in the past. I enjoy working for people and I hope I can continue in this office. Much needs to be done.	It's time for a change. I do not need this office to make any living, therefore, I will work to make the constituents in the district a better living.	Six years ago, I came to Lansing to represent the interest of my neighbors in the 37th district. The coming decade will be filled with challenges and I want to continue being here for my district. I wish to continue my legislative work in environmental protection, education and various other issues.	We need an independent voice in Congress that is responsible and in touch with the values of the hard-working, tax-paying families of the 15th district.
--	---	--	---	---	---

Because I will work the people, my approach to government is that no special interest groups are served over the people's interest, what is fair for a resident are also the same rules that a developer or project-manager must follow. I have a wide variety of knowledge through the seven degrees that I hold, and the work experience that I have obtained. I have motivation to work for the people, not just talk about solutions which will never be utilized.	Throughout my life, my attitude has always been - "How can we do it better?" This philosophy relates to raising my family, my profession and commitment to my community. The constant search for a "better way" creates an environment to succeed and has a positive effect upon those around you. In the specific case of involvement in community government - it's unique. My attitude of getting a good return of investment works.	Past experience.	After 61 years of hearing promises never kept, I feel I can do a better job in promoting work and employment within the district. I am not controlled nor owe allegiance to any group or person.	Ten years as a community planner, coupled with three terms in the Michigan House of Representatives has given me the experience needed for the position.	Successful business management experience combined with 10 years management experience that includes working with professional athletes, media personalities, automotive design and engineering fields. As owner of Global Technology Associates Ltd. founded in March 1988, we currently employ approximately 100 design personnel. Started from my kitchen table to over $3,000,000 in sales in the second year.
---	---	-------------------------	---	---	--

The duplication of tax dollars spent at the county level and again at the local governmental level. Government needs to reduce cost, excessive spending and waste. By utilizing the same resources less tax cost will be provided to the residents of this district. On the environmental issues, recycling is part of the answer, however, the county needs to address the major offenders of the problem, not allow development, developers, and project managers to control the decisions of how much pollution is enough, how much can be taken from the land and not be replaced.	Residents of Western Wayne County replied (interestingly) - our road system. Roads constructed in the past - poor planning; i.e., Ford Road should have been planned as Orchard Lake Road with side access to the businesses; not direct entrance and exit onto Ford Road - it's dangerous! The roads that were built in the past years are not updated to handle current traffic loads. The roads that have been recently constructed fall into disrepair too rapidly. The care and maintenance of the total county road system - very poor. Too many pot holes and open cracks, along with the lack of cleaning, resulting in debris-laden streets. The problem of the placement of traffic signals.	School finance reform Property tax My own priorities for the new session (if elected) will include amendments to the Commercial Forest Act - an environmental agenda that includes recycling goals and incentives for biodegradable packaging, and renewed efforts toward reform of Michigan's burdensome property tax system. I also wish to assist communities and citizens of the 12th District in their interaction with state government.	Abortion does not belong in the legislature. I am personally against abortion, but have no right to interfere with another person's body. I will not vote for or against abortion. Employment - We must stop out-sourcing and make a climate that manufactures will accept. Crime - Use available unused factories (especially in Detroit) to house minor offenders so that hard-core criminals can do their full time. If this is done, criminals will be deterred from crime when they know they will do the full time. Building new prisons does not solve the problem, it only accentuates it. Most criminals live better in prison than they do at home.	Continued levels of state spending - given the downturn in the economic climate. The legislature needs to increase its vigilance and step up its oversight to insure existing programs are meeting current cost benefit justification. Continue pressing for equity and quality in our educational system. The State of Michigan dramatically needs to alter its methodology of funding schools in this state, particularly by reducing its reliance upon property taxes. The state needs to empower parents to take a more active role in assuring quality output from their local school district.	Taxes (includes deficits) Education Crime Jobs Federal deficit Accountability in elected and appointed officials trade deficit, savings-loan accountability

How to win at the numbers game.

The game is newspaper advertising — and the rules are changing. Rates are up in the Detroit News and Free Press. Suburban circulation is down. And all around town, advertisers are wondering what numbers to trust — and where to place their media dollars. What should you do?

Beware of smoke and mirrors.

Right now, the News and Free Press circulation is unstable at best. On the other hand, SPRING's network of 39 Detroit suburban newspapers delivers to more than 500,000 households — and that's a real number. How do we know? All SPRING newspapers are audited. Every year, the circulation figures for each SPRING newspaper are verified by either CAC or ABC — two of the industry's most highly-respected independent auditors. No slippery stuff here. SPRING's numbers are tested, tried, and true.

Place your bet on SPRING.

Once you've studied the numbers, we're sure you'll agree: SPRING is a sure winner. SPRING's circulation is solid and stable. It's audited. And it represents more than one million readers who have the means to buy what you sell. No matter how you figure it — those are very good odds, indeed.

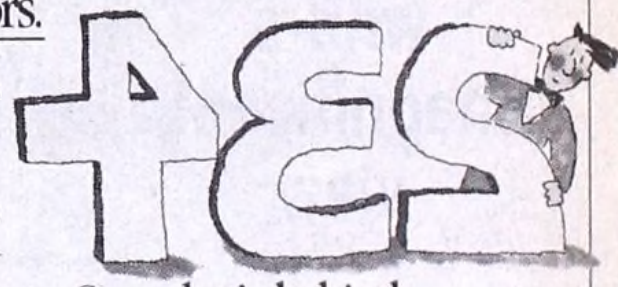

One call. One order. One ad. One million readers. One heck-of-a-buy.

See what's behind the numbers.

OK — so dazzling numbers can be misleading. And, when it comes to newspaper circulation figures, you want more than quantity. You want quality. We've got it. SPRING's one million readers are some of the most affluent consumers around. SPRING newspapers go to suburbs with the spending power to buy more cars, condos, boats, bikes, appliances, apparel, gizmos, and gadgets than most other Michigan communities combined. Best of all, SPRING delivers this upscale suburban market at a lower cost per thousand than either the News or the Free Press.

Take a step back in time . . .

When those small silver diners were scattered along Route 66 or Highway 25. When songs and music had real meaning, the words seemed to fit our daily lives. When soft drinks were served in a tall, thin, flared-top glass, with red lettering "Coca-Cola" at the top. When a hamburger was made from fresh ground beef, not a frozen square patty. When the coffee was ground fresh right before brewing. When the diner had a pot of beef stew simmering on the stove and a salad made with farm fresh vegetables. At Reflections we have tried to bring back those feelings, those cherished days of long ago. So sit back, enjoy your meal and remember when . . .

2 issues appear on ballot

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Decisions, decisions, decisions.

Wayne County voters will have plenty of them in narrowing the field of candidates for the November general election and deciding the fate of two millage proposals on the Aug. 7 primary ballot.

Under Proposal A, Wayne County Community College board of directors have asked county voters to approve a one-mill tax increase for operating purposes.

At the same time, county officials are asking for voter approval to extend a one-mill tax (Tax Renewal Proposal) for an additional 10 years, through the year 1990. The county is currently levying 6.7 mills for operating purposes.

College officials said the one-mill would generate approximately $16 million, which represents half of their $36.7 annual budget.

"If the millage fails, there would have to be drastic reductions in courses offered, staff and even the possibility of closing some of the campuses," said Casey Reddus, a spokesperson for K & C Public Relations, which is handling the publicity campaign for the college. WCCC currently operates five colleges whose facilities are spread throughout the county. The colleges are funded by student tuition, a mandated quarter-mill and state subsidies.

WCCC has a student enrollment of about 12,100, who have the choice of attending five campus colleges in Wayne County. WCCC also operates a college in Van Buren Township.

Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara has labeled the renewal of the 1-mill as "critical to county residents."

One mill generates about $24 million and the loss of the revenue would mean the loss of jobs for more than 400 county workers, McNamara said.

A mill represents one dollar of property tax for each $1,000 of state equalized property value.

McNamara pointed out "this is not a new tax, rather just a continuation of an existing one."

A homeowner whose home is valued at $75,000 - which means the assessed value is half of that: $37,500 - would pay $37.50 if the tax is renewed, according to county officials.

If the millage is not renewed, there will be a delay in the opening of a 840-bed jail already under construction in Hamtramck, the closing of all county parks, a 50 percent cut in mental health funding and the elimination of all Health Department services which are not mandated by state law, the officials said.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. on Tuesday.

2 vie for Republican nomination

Registered Republican voters will have their choice of two gubernatorial candidates on the Aug. 7 primary ballot.

John Engler, the better-known candidate, is being challenged by John Lauve.

The winner in the primary will face off against Democratic incumbent James J. Blanchard.

Our choices for good government

On Aug. 7 voters will visit their local polling places and vote for candidates. The majority will decide which candidate will represent either the Republican or Democratic party in the November general election.

The primary election is probably the most misunderstood step in the election process. It is essential, however, to good government.

• The most hotly contested race in the primary is that for the 12th District Wayne County Commissioner. Four Democrats are competing to determine who will represent that party in the general election.

The current commissioner, Kay Beard, is faced with some tough opponents in the primary. She has served her district well for many years and for that she deserves a great deal of respect.

Our choice for the nomination, however, is Terri Reighard Johnson.

It is time for a change. Although that sounds like a cliché, in this case it is true. A candidate who can represent the district with dignity and maturity is now in the race, and she deserves consideration.

Johnson is a fast-rising star on the political scene. Starting at the school board level in Wayne-Westland, she recently moved up to city council.

She is bright and anxious to consider all the options available. She can represent each of the cities in the 12th District fairly having considerable support from all corners.

• On the Republican ticket for the 11th District county commission race, two challengers are facing off - Linda Churhan and Victor Gustafson.

Our choice for the nomination is Gustafson. Although little is known of the candidate, he appears to be intelligent and prepared to deal with the complex issues facing the county.

• William Faust has a challenger in the Democratic primary for the 12th District state Senate seat.

There is little to complain about, however, when it comes to Faust. He has deep roots in the area and he has been instrumental in its success. He is a sort of "fairy godfather" for the 12th District, working for the causes of the people he represents.

He deserves the nomination.

• In the 36th District race for the state House of Representatives, Gerald Law receives the endorsement.

He is a respected legislator and knows the concerns of his district.

• Jim Kosteva receives our nod in the Democratic primary for the 37th District state House of Representatives.

His concerns for family, education and the environment place him among the most caring legislators in Lansing.

• Justine Barns is without a doubt the only choice for the Democratic nomination in the 38th District.

She is a whirlwind of energy anxious to be involved in the next project or the next study. Her work with the homeless shelter in Westland, her concern about the elderly in nursing homes and her work with education-finance legislation is to be commended and rewarded.

Two issues will also appear on the Aug. 7 primary ballot. We endorse a renewal for Wayne County allowing for the continuation of programs and health care for the indigent.

We do not, however, support the millage for Wayne County Community College. Until the financial matters of the college are investigated and repaired, additional taxpayers' support should be withheld.

In addition, several judgeships will be determined on the primary ballot. As candidates for judge are not free to express openly their views on issues such as abortion and the death penalty, we chose not to publish our endorsements for these candidates.

Concern repeated

Like Ms. Prieskorn-Moore and Ms. Patton, I, too, have a deep concern over diminishing retail in our community of Wayne.

This lack of retail affects me as a consumer, a resident of this community, secretary of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce and as a City Councilwoman.

The businesses referred to in your letter left our community for a variety of reasons - four of them due in part to the fact that there was no interest on the part of the younger generation to continue the family business. In addition, those independent soft good retailers face strict competition from larger retailers.

Other reasons for businesses coming and going can be not sufficient backup operating capital, wrong market area, a desire to relocate out of state, etc.

Please remember that along with the losses have been gains. Have you stopped by Rella Della's, Crazy Barb's Paperback Exchange, JJ's Styling Station, Wayne Beauty Supply, Kay's Korner Salon, Sparks Music or Dock of the Bay?

The Retail Search Committee which I chair has worked for 2 1/2 years contacting various retail concerns detailing why they should locate in Wayne. As chair, I have come to understand and appreciate the difficulties which the city has faced in attempts to attract retail.

People in this day and age tend toward the perceived convenience of shopping malls. The malls have acquired the appearance of downtowns - downtowns that have activities geared toward entertaining the consumers.

Have you participated in the different promotions that the Wayne Merchants Association of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce have throughout the year? Have you tried your luck for a one-day trip to the Bahamas, baseball tickets, dinner and limousine service, tickets to "Cats", MAD money?

The City, Chamber and Retail Search Committee continue to work to bring new retail businesses into the city. We have not given up.

The Downtown Development Authority funds will be utilized to improve our commercial areas whether it be in infrastructure items or loans to businesses for renovations. The work that is proceeding on the historic Wayne Theater hopefully will culminate in a viable art center which will attract people to Wayne from all over the metro area.

There is hope. There will be a renewed Wayne business district.

If you have any suggestions on what type of business you would like to see in Wayne or have contacts for businesses, please let me know. I can be reached at 721-0100 or 35816 West Michigan Avenue. Your input and suggestions are welcome.

Wetlands issue for concern

This is my opinion of the article on June 25, 1990, "Wetlands are issue for concern." I feel Metro Airport shouldn't be allowed to extend the runway. We must realize wetlands help make oxygen that we breathe and also cleanse the air. Trying to relocate the wetlands in another area could mean disaster. It saddens me to think wild life will be driven away. Nature does a wonderful job by itself; why do people have to mess it up? We have to start thinking about the future and preserve nature - not destroy it.

The 16 acres of wetlands at Metro Airport should remain. Is there not another solution? There is still some country left in Romulus; let's keep it that way.

Neighborhood eyesores

There are two vacant lots between Clair and Henry Ruff on Hazelwood Street. One sits on the corner of Henry Ruff and Hazelwood and that's for sale every year.

They are a total eyesore. Why can't the city put their foot down and do something?

They flood and the grass grows high and when they cut it they leave grass all over the sidewalks. Something needs to be done about this. It has been going on for too many years now.

Whomever the lots belong to, let's do something. They make the neighborhood look nasty and ugly. You don't see Westland let their lots go like that. Is our city that poor?

It looks very shabby and bad. I think the Westland people that live on Henry Ruff should also say something when they have to look out their windows and see this all the time.

Monumental move by schools

At the July 25, 1990 Van Buren Board of Education meeting, our board took a bold step in the rebuilding of our school district. Faced with financial problems and students leaving the district because of the five-hour day, they voted to restore the six-hour day first semester with the stipulation the millage must pass to continue the six-hour day second semester. I applaud their decision. It took a lot of courage and will surely receive criticism from those who feel the voters have spoken on this issue.

Big problems take bold actions to solve. This is a bold move. But I personally believe there is a new spirit in our school system, a new beginning if you will. It is a fresh new commitment to the education of our students. This spirit began with the hiring of Mr. Richendollar as our superintendent. It continued with the restoration of the six-hour day. In effect, our board has said they are willing to lead this district in this new commitment. It is a commitment that is not without risks. But I feel the benefits far outweigh the risks. I commend them for their actions and hope the community will support the effort to restore pride and integrity in our schools by supporting the millage on October 1, 1990.

Racing pigs to appear at fair

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

The crowd-pleasing Robinson's Racing Pigs are back for the fourth consecutive year at the Wayne County Fair.

Motivated by "love, affection and Oreo cookies," the porkers will race around the 100-foot long oval track at the fairgrounds several times a day Thursday, Friday and Saturday, said Wayne County Fair Association Treasurer Marilyn Thomas.

"Although we have a lot of good entertainment, the racing pigs are real crowd-pleasers, and visitors to the fair look for them every year," Thomas said.

The 44th annual fair opens Aug. 7 and continues through Aug. 11 at the fairground, located at Interstate-94 and Belleville Road, Belleville.

"For the past three years we've had record attendance, and we are expecting a good turnout this year," Thomas said. "We are getting bigger and better each year, and, at the same time, we are trying to keep the old charm of a county fair."

"We'll have a special theme each day with activities centered around it. On Tuesday we'll begin the fair with Agricultural Day, Wednesday will be Senior Citizens' Day, Thursday will be Children's Day, Friday will be Merchant's Day and Saturday will be our Family Day," Thomas said. "One of the highlights of our entertainment will be our third annual 4-by-4 Truck Show and Monster Truck Shoot Out on Saturday, featuring Big Foot, the monster truck. In addition, we have Midwest All-Pro Wrestling scheduled, country singer Tracey Lynne and the Mountain Express Band, the Battle of the Bands and the Sea Cruise Band."

The fair will feature the following events:

- Tuesday - Midway opens, Ronald McDonald visits, wrestling, queen contest, battle of bands, coloring contest and disc jockey.

- Wednesday - Midway, talent show, figure 8 race, bingo, homemaker award and disc jockey.

- Thursday - Midway, watermelon eating contest, children's entertainment, pony pull, recitals and disc jockey.

- Friday - Midway, battle of bands winner, Sea Cruise Band, truck pull, Las Vegas event, 4-by-4 pull, cruise night and disc jockey, and

- Saturday - Fun run, midway, Tracey Lynn, 4-by-4 show, monster trucks, open horse show, open rabbit show, Las Vegas event and disc jockey.

Displayed throughout the fair will be poultry, goats, rabbits, swine, cattle and horses, plus exhibits of science, art, conservation, home economics and photography.

Admission is $3 before 6 p.m. and $4 after that time, with free admission for children 12 years of age and younger.

Belleville All-Stars fall to Columbia in district championships, 11-7

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

It just wasn't in the stars for the Belleville American League All-Stars. After rising to the occasion in their two previous outings, the All-Stars fell 11-7 in the championship round to Columbia in the Little League playoffs staged last week in Ypsilanti. "This defeat was very hard on the kids and the staff," said All-Stars manager Kevin Carrico, "but it in no way diminishes their accomplishments. 'No other Belleville team had gone as far as this one in post-season play. It is therefore a tribute to these kids for what they did." Columbia, a team out of the Irish Hills area, jumped on losing pitcher Jacob Gabrys for two runs in the first inning, but Gabrys's teammates, behind the bats of P. K. Wilkerson, and Chris Jamnick, managed to tie the score in the bottom of that inning. However, a wild fourth inning when Columbia tilted the scoreboard for six runs to take the lead for good and rout Gabrys from the mound proved to be the difference. Gabrys was replaced by Wilkerson who couldn't silence the district champs' bats. Belleville rallied for five runs in its fifth, but the All-Stars never managed to overcome the deficit. Wilkerson finished with three hits, including a single and double plus a pair of runs batted in. Sean Livingston checked in with two hits, including a double and Jamnick contributed a run-scoring double. Earlier, behind Gabrys's two-hit pitching gem, the Belleville All-Stars eliminated Jackson West County from the playoffs, 4-0. Gabrys went the distance in earning his second decision of the tournament. Gabrys, a 12-year-old eighth grader at North Middle School, was in control all the way. The All-Stars, picked from several American League teams, finished the post-season with a 2-1 record. "There is a lot of talent on this team," stressed Carrico, "and these players are a credit to their community." Carrico said he would also like to thank the community and the sponsors for the support they displayed during the season. "We really appreciate what they, our sponsors and fans, have done for this team. We're looking forward to coming back a year from now and hopefully improving upon our record," Carrico added. Columbia will represent the Ypsilanti district at the state championships.

Water babies

The "Ramp Babies", as they are called, receive valuable water safety and swim instructions during their classes in the pool at the Inkster Recreation Complex. Instructor Diane Elliot works with 5-year-old Alexis Jackson, while future All-state swimmers Robert Turner, 4, and Anthony Turner, 5, digest the instructions. The swimmers are part of the "Ramp Babies" swimming program, which meets weekly at the municipal pool.

Time is running out to register for golf tourney

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Time is running out for local golfers who plan to compete in the 31st annual City Championship Golf Tournament. The two-day, 36-hole tournament will be staged the weekend of August 11-12 at Fellows Creek Golf Course in Canton Township. There is a $40 registration fee, which covers the costs for the two days of golfing and trophy expenses. The tournament is open to all amateur male golfers residing or employed in the cities of Wayne, Westland, Inkster, Romulus and Canton Township. There is also an independent or open flight. The purpose of the tournament is to stage separate city championships simultaneously for the participating communities. The tournament will also determine the line-up for each city's team in the state recreation golf tournament finals. The state tournament will be staged later this summer. The low five scorers from each city are eligible to play on the city (township) team that competes in the state finals. All other golfers will become alternates in order of their finish in the championship flights. Only a bona fide resident may represent a city on the team that travels to the state tournament. Trophies will be awarded to the top three finishers in each of the flights. There will also be an additional trophy for the low scorer for the entire field (medalist). In case of a tie for one of the trophies, a 'sudden death' playoff will be waged until a winner is determined. The city of Wayne golfers will also be competing for the Leonard Anderson Traveling Trophy, presented by the Wayne Police Department. Patrolman Anderson was the first Wayne officer to be slain in the line of duty. William Hawley, who has served as tournament director for the last dozen of the tournaments, said that he will "accept entries right up to the day of the tournament." "However, golfers must give me a call and let me know that they plan to play this year so that I can reserve a tee time for them," Hawley said. In order to enter the championships, golfers are requested to fill out the entry blank that accompanies this story. Mail or drop off the blank, along with a check for $40, at the Associated Newspapers offices, 35540 Michigan Avenue, Wayne. (Telephone 729-4000 for further information). Please make checks payable to: Bill Hawley, tournament manager. Next week, the ANP sports section will carry the tee times for those who have entered the 1990 summer classic. Fellows Creek Golf Course is located at 2936 Lotz Road, off of Michigan Avenue West, just before the I-275 expressway in Canton Township. Jeff Hawkins, an ANP staff writer, found Fellows Creek a "challenging course." Hawkins had an additional handicap in his first-ever outing at Fellows - the weather failed to cooperate. He played through intermittent rain and finished with a 47 for nine holes. "Not bad. But I can do better," Hawkins says. We'll see. We'll see.

Champs surrender softball crown

Like three on a match, three championships in a row proved dangerous for the defending champs. Schaefer Office Products of Dearborn Heights came close to winning three consecutive Leonard J. Anderson Invitational Softball titles last week, however, the champs fell short 10-9 and 11-6 and surrendered the coveted crown to the usurper PK&J Trucking. PK&J, representing the city of Westland, stunned the defending champ in the championship round of the 14th annual Anderson Invitational staged in Wayne on diamonds named for the former Wayne police officer

Anderson was the first Wayne police officer to be slain in the line of duty. "It was a competitive tournament," noted Larry Quartuccio, tournament director and championship team manager. "Except for the rain, the tournament went off without a hitch. It was great." Quartuccio pointed out that games were delayed Friday and Sunday (because of inclement weather), "but it didn't keep the fans away." He added: "There is no doubt in my mind that this is the best amateur softball tournament in lower Michigan. It is fun for everyone." Especially for PK&J

Trucking. In the first game of the championship showdown, Jerry Holbrook's dramatic leadoff, game-winning home run in the bottom of the seventh inning climaxed the cliffhanger. In the second game, Brian Donahue and Michael Jusino each contributed two hits as the newly-crowned champs scored six runs in the top of the seventh inning en route to the 11-6 title victory. Jeff Price pitched all seven games for the champs. Other local winners included Mike Pranke in the home run derby and Eric Babler with the highest tournament batting average of .882.

Members of the all-tournament team picked from the championship team included John Sampson, Jim Wetmore, Jusino and Holbrook. As far as the plans for the 15th annual Anderson tournament is concerned, Quartuccio said that they are already in the works and his team has plans on claiming back-to-back championships. "Teams are already asking for us to hold a spot for them next year," Quartuccio said. "Next year's tournament should be a little bigger. And, hopefully, said the manager of the PK&J club, "with the same results."

Who's on first Basketball title race is too close to call

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Who's on first? That question may be answered Saturday when four teams, three of which are boasting 5-1 records and a fourth club with a 4-2 mark, begin playoffs to determine the inaugural Inkster summer basketball league champion. Presently, managers Leslie Reynolds, Merv Harris and Wimberly are in a "dead heat" for first place. Each has won five of their six games this season. "We have a three-way tie for first and, in order to decide the championship, the three plus a fourth team will be involved in a playoff," said Vic Hughes, league organizer. Hughes said the format will include two games on Saturday, then the following weekend a championship game plus a consolation between the two losers may be played. On Saturday, Harris will clash with Wimberly in the opening round of the playoffs at 2 p.m., while Reynolds will clash with Lewis' club immediately after the first game. The two winners will meet the following Saturday to decide the championship. The time of the championship game will be decided at a later date, Hughes said. In the meantime, the league wrapped up the regular season as Harris overpowered Lewis 83-72 for its fifth victory of the summer campaign. Terry Harris and Jim Brintley led the winners. Harris pumped in 25 points to lead all scorers, while his teammate counted 19 points for the afternoon. On the other side of the ledger, former Robichaud cage star, Michael Aaron, tossed in 22 points for the losers. Aaron will be in his sophomore year at the University of Detroit this fall where he is expected to play a major role in the Titans' drive for cage respectability.

The summer basketball league plays its games at the Inkster Recreation Center, located on Middlebelt Road, just north of Michigan Avenue West.

Football schedules, please

It's time to prepare for the 1990 high school football season. In order for the sports staff at the Associated Newspapers to plan for its annual Prep Football Preview, which will appear in early September, writers will need fall schedules, set up interview times and meet with coaches and players. However, writers will need those fall schedules. Area athletic directors are urged to mail (or drop off) the schedules at the ANP offices, 35540 Michigan Avenue, Wayne, as soon as possible. Also, please include the telephone numbers of all coaches on the schedules. For further information, please contact staff writer Tom Mooradian at 729-4000.

THE 31st CITY GOLF TOURNAMENT WILL BE STAGED AT FELLOWS CREEK GOLF COURSE ON AUGUST 11 AND 12.

The Tournament is the qualifier for the Michigan Parks and Recreation State Tournament. Everyone will be placed into flights according to ability. The Entry Fee is $40.00 which includes 2- 18 hole rounds of golf on the weekend, and trophies and prizes.

Flat Rock Speedway

Local drivers shut out of victory lane

While local drivers failed to find their way into the winner's circle at Flat Rock Speedway last week, a wild marathon night of racing did see Doug Kalitta, Royce Cornett, Gary Earley and Steve Cronenwett chalk up feature victories.

The Loctite Midget Series paid its second visit of the season to the 1/4-mile oval and a new face emerged in victory lane.

Ypsilanti's Doug Kalitta made a clean sweep of the division by posting the pole time (12:125), winning his heat and grabbing the win in the 25-lap feature event.

Kalitta's first victory ever was well-earned as the young driver came from the back of the 19-car field to post the win. The event had an amazing five different leaders, with Mike Witzman taking the lead for the first eight laps.

Current point-leader Jim Hettinger sailed to the front on lap 9, but then dropped out on lap 12.

Then, Tim Allen inherited the lead and watched Tim Mehner snatch the top spot on lap 19.

A sensational four-car battle ensued for the final six circuits as Kalitta zipped by the outside and on to victory. Mehner finished second, Allen was third while Rick Harrell and Les Scott were fourth and fifth, respectively.

Hettinger and Ruhland took the other heat-race wins for the Loctite Midgets.

Time trials are set for 5:30 p.m. and racing begins at 7 p.m. at the track which is located one mile south of Flat Rock on Telegraph Road, between the I-75 and I-275 expressways.

Deadline set for 'open' tennis tourney entries

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

A Friday, August 10 deadline has been set by Inkster Parks and Recreation officials for the 12th annual "open" tennis tournament to be staged in the city.

"We need to register all of those who wish to play as soon as possible so that we can conduct the pairings for the competition," noted Ron Wolkowicz, recreation director. Pairings will be drawn on August 15 for the three-day tournament which will begin on August 17 and end on August 19.

The tournament is in conjunction with the city's three-day festival.

The competition will be waged on the newly repaired and surfaced tennis courts located adjacent to the Inkster

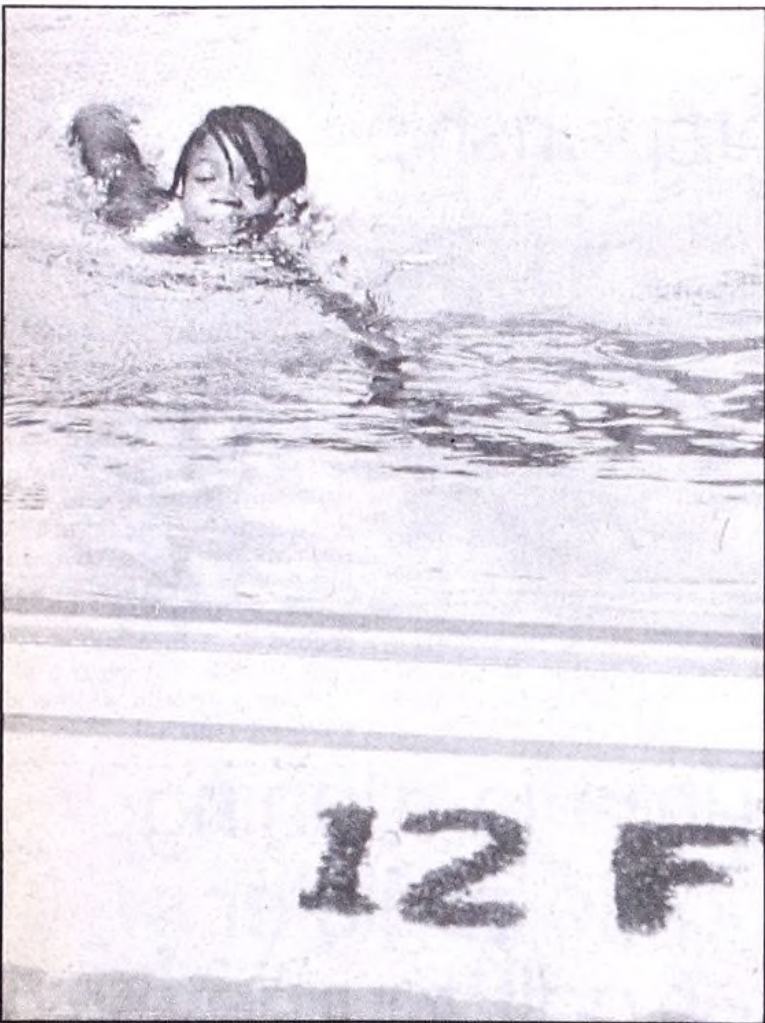

Recreation Complex, 2025 Middlebelt Road, north of Michigan Avenue.

Players will be grouped according to age divisions.

Divisions include: Youth (17 and under) singles and doubles.

For tennis enthusiasts who need applications or further information, contact the recreation offices by dialing 728-7530.

'Born to swim'

'Born to swim' is the way Inkster recreation officials describe 5-year-old Tiffany Elliot, who can swim the length of a 50-meter pool with ease. She also doesn't shy away from deep water, a trait may her age will show. Tiffany trains with the "Ramp Babies", a program at the Inkster Recreation Center.

Castles of Sand

Sandcastles considered works of art in county parks contest

Workers from Tiseo and Associates work on a classic sandcastle utilizing various shapes.

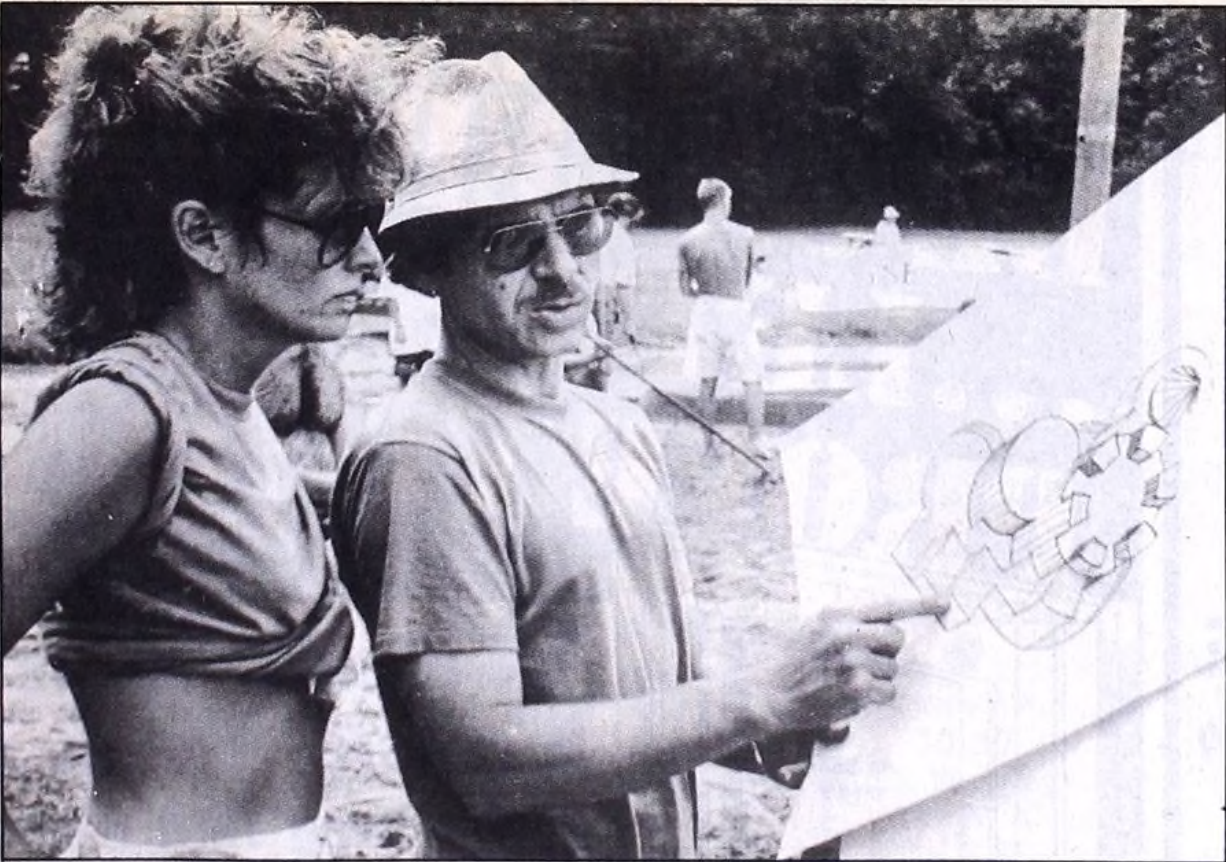

Employees of architectural firms throughout Wayne County competed Sunday in the annual Wayne County parks event - "We're Building Castles in the Sand."

Staged at the beach volleyball courts at Nankin Mill in Westland, the artists work for hours to construct their masterpieces. Preliminary work often involves the drawing of plans and the collecting of materials.

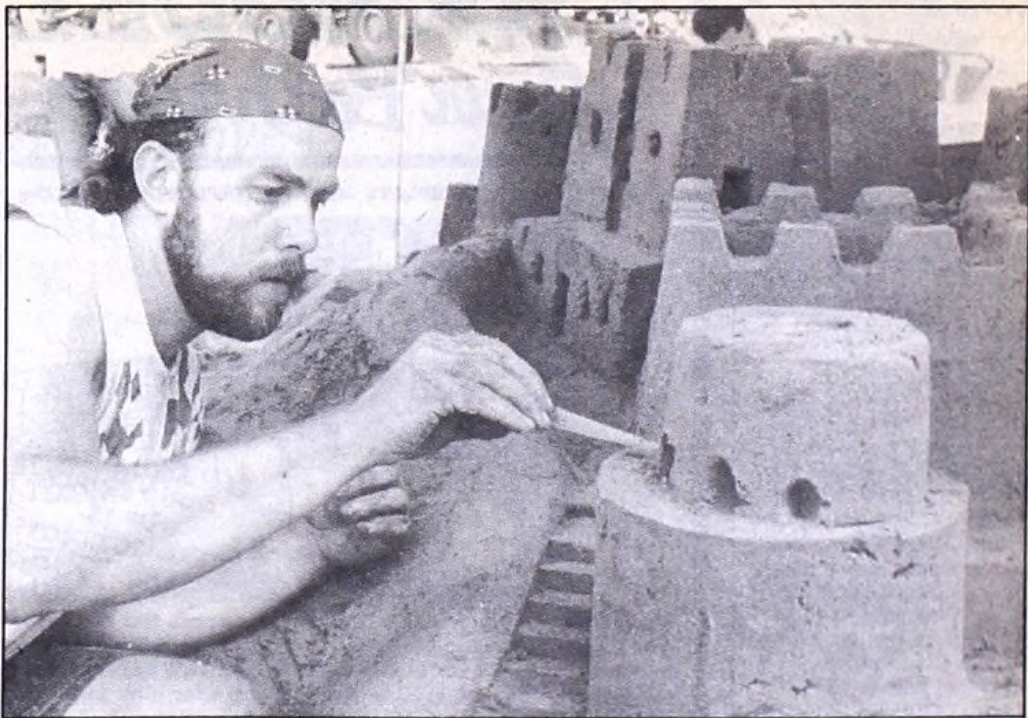

To the victor of the event goes the coveted "silver bucket trophy."

The Warlords' castle "Dream of the Alchemist" won top prize at the annual parks event. The design is from a tale in which a village is swallowed by a dragon, and then when the dragon is killed the city comes back to life in the carcass of the beast.

Bob Kennedy and Deirdre Mintus of Tiseo and Associates study the blueprints for their castle.

Helmut John Hammen of the Warlords adds some detail to the winning castle.

TRAVEL AND ENTERTAINMENT

Short trips are choice of many

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Travelers may dream about long trips to faraway destinations, but when their travel plans are made, it is the three-day and four-day trips that are gaining popularity with vacationers.

"There are many reasons for the popularity of short vacations, but, perhaps, the biggest reason is that people can take more trips by splitting their vacation time," said Gary Sampson, owner of Adventure Travel. "Short vacations don't mean less travelling. They really mean more travelling - just for shorter periods."

In addition, Sampson acknowledges, the lower cost of short trips is a factor, as well as the lack of vacation time that many business people and two-career families have.

"Among the most popular packages are the Toronto two-night package, the one- and two-night stays at Atlantic City, three-night trips to Las Vegas, one- and two-day trips to Chicago and three- and four-day cruises," Sampson said. "Las Vegas is the number one draw because of the gambling and stage shows, and the second most popular destination is Toronto. In addition, the growing popularity of the three-day and four-day cruises are prompting cruise lines to expand their number of ships serving the Caribbean market."

Prices for Las Vegas - the most popular short vacation spot - can vary from $200 for air fare only to a hotel/air fare package of more than $400 for a three-night stay. Packages usually include round-trip air fare, lodging, transportation to the hotel, baggage handling and gratuities for bellmen plus air and hotel taxes. A Northwest World Vacation two-night package includes air fare, accommodations, hotel taxes, a coupon book for reduced-cost meals, cocktails and gambling for slightly more than $200, depending on the hotel choice.

In addition to luring guests with glitzy shows and gambling, Las Vegas hotels offer a bit of fantasy in the special themes and decor: the new Excalibur, a modern-day interpretation of King Arthur's court, the oriental-style Imperial Palace, the New Orleans riverboat-era theme of the Holiday Casino/Inn and the tropical paradise theme of the Tropicana and The Mirage.

Once in Las Vegas, visitors can bypass a day in the casinos for trips to the Hoover Dam, Lake Mead, a desert tour, the Red Rock Canyon, Colorado River rafting, Zion National Park and Bryce National Park.

One-day trips to Chicago, Toronto and Atlantic City are also becoming increasingly popular with people who want a short getaway, Sampson said, noting that winter vacations are "still a seven-day market" for those who want to escape the frigid northern weather for a week in sunny Florida, Mexico or the Caribbean.

Monroe County Fair has much to offer

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Look up the dictionary definition of county fair and you might read: "See Monroe County Fair."

Maybe not, but that won't stop the 42nd annual fair Aug. 6 through Aug. 11 from being everything a fair should be. It has lots of farm animals to see, exhibits of handicrafts, a variety of free entertainment, amusement rides, diet-busting snack foods and a bit of history and nostalgia. All that plus free parking and additional parking - with shuttle service - at the nearby campus of Monroe County Community College.

There's a comfortable, friendly atmosphere at the fair, which seems to be just about the right size - big enough to attract quality performers and participants and small enough to keep a "down-home" flavor.

Each year, the fair features a popular country performer and a rock or middle-of-the-road act to satisfy the varied tastes of the county fair audiences. This year, the Oak Ridge Boys, whose most popular record was Elvira, will fill the country bill on Saturday night, while the Shirelles, Fabian and Bobby Vee will bring a bit of '50s and '60s nostalgia to the stage on Friday night.

Among the fair attractions are several historic sites:

- Elby Log Cabin, a typical 1850-era German log cabin, open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.;
- Martha Barker Country Store Museum and the Navarre-Anderson Trading Post, open 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. daily, displaying items from typical country stores of the early 1900s.
- Oldest Michigan residence, built in 1789 and currently being restored, a replica of a French-Canadian barn and a working sawmill.

Other attractions are Cissie Lynn, the daughter of country singer Loretta Lynn, the Hollanders musical group, the Demolition Derby, a tractor pull, square dancers and cloggers.

Fair hours are 9 a.m. until 11 p.m. daily. Admission is $3 for adults, and children 12 years of age and younger are admitted free with a parent to the fairgrounds, located three miles west of Monroe on South Custer Road (M-50).

THE GREEK ISLES

A journey to Greece is incomplete without visiting some of those fabulous islands in the Aegean!

The popular island of Rhodes is known for its bougainvilleas, butterflies and roses. Its medieval walls and towers look like something out of a fairytale. Walk the Street of the Knights and poke around picturesque shops for hand-embroidered dresses and blouses, and hand painted pottery in Greek designs. The island's Acropolis of Lindos perches on a precipice above the incredibly blue sea.

Hippocrates was born on the island of Kos. Samos, off the coast of Turkey, is exquisite. Samos is a bustling port town and the colorful fishing boats on the waterfront look as if they belong in a travel poster. Stop in a dockside taverna for some moussaka or a tasty Greek salad. Watch the sunrise on Crete, largest of the Greek isles and home of the Temple of Knossos. Notice the windmills turn on the beautiful whitewashed island of Mykonos.

Choose your own special island and enjoy the gorgeous beaches and the turquoise waters OR take a Greek Island Cruise and visit several before choosing one special island for an extended stay.

Procedure blasted by union in contract talks

By BARBARA GOFFMAN
ANP Special Writer

The policy of Ford Motor Company to buy car components from non-Ford plants, also known as out-sourcing, was blasted by the president of the United Auto Workers when contract negotiations began two weeks ago.

"Ford is the most blatant of the Big Three automakers in the pursuit of global sourcing as part of its strategy, regardless of its impact on its workers," Owen Bieber said.

The impact, according to Bieber, is lost jobs for Ford workers.

While Ford executives claim union jobs have been preserved because former Ford component plants have received orders to produce new products, Bieber cited examples such as the Rawsonville plant, where more than half of the employees were laid off in the 1980s.

Ford representatives insist the out-sourcing policy is necessary to give the company economic flexibility. They said they must be able to buy components at the best quality for the lowest price.

Other goals the UAW representatives seek to obtain from the Big Three include enhanced pension benefits for current and future retirees, wage increases fully protected from inflation and improved and more cost-effective health care programs, Bieber said.

He said he also will press for the elimination of overtime abuses and reductions in overall work time and for a commitment to expand the allocation of available work to unionized U.S. workers.

"In simple terms, these negotiations are aimed at ensuring that our loyalty and contribution to that success is fully reciprocated." Negotiations between the 500,000 member UAW and Ford, Chrysler and General Motors will span the next eight weeks.

The current contracts will expire Sept. 14.

Union leader named to Hall of Fame

As labor leaders are pressing now for more rights for workers, a leader in the development of the UAW has been chosen to be inducted into the Automotive Hall of Fame, Midland.

Walter Reuther, former UAW president, will be one of six automotive pioneers inducted at the annual awards banquet of the Hall of Fame, Oct. 3 at the Westin Renaissance Hotel, Detroit.

Reuther successfully negotiated the first labor contract in a major industry which tied wages to the cost of living. He pioneered the ideas of long-term labor contracts, medical insurance and supplementary unemployment benefits.

The sit-down strike was another of Reuther's developments. He also conceived the strategy of singling out one automaker for strike action and after winning a long-term contract with that company, extending the gains throughout the rest of the industry.

The other inductees are Clarence A. Avery, who played a major role in developing the moving conveyor line for Ford Motor Co.; Charles A. Bott, an auto dealer from Philadelphia; Philip Caldwell, the retired chief executive officer of Ford Motor Company; John E. Goerlich, founder of AP Parts Company; and Thomas A. Murphy, the retired chief executive officer of General Motors.

"We are proud that this group of inductees covers the entire spectrum of the automotive industry," said Robert P. Mallon, chairman of the Automotive Hall of Fame.

"From top management officials who made their mark nationally, to a dealer who built his fame locally, these six individuals epitomize all that is good about our industry. It will be our honor to induct them into their (rightful) places in the Automotive Hall of Fame," he said.

The Automotive Hall of Fame is a non-profit organization founded in 1939 to preserve the role of the individual automotive history.

Among its programs are "Think Automotive!," which seeks to attract young people to careers in the industry; the Automotive Educational Fund, which offers scholarships to students interested in the automotive industry as a career.

1st Saturn dealer well known locally

Karen (LaPorte) Tibus believes that if you don't set your goals high enough you don't reach them.

"I want it all," Tibus said.

Fifteen years ago Tibus started working at Don Massey Cadillac in Plymouth as a switchboard operator. On Tuesday, she celebrated the groundbreaking of a new Saturn dealership where she is to be general manager.

"I can't say I dreamed that one day when I grew up I'd want to be a Saturn dealer," laughed Tibus, who was recognized as a "Woman Worth Watching" by The Associated Newspapers when her career was just getting off the ground in the late 1970s.

One of three women among 106 Saturn dealers, Tibus works long hours. Like her mentor, Don Massey, she believes in hard work.

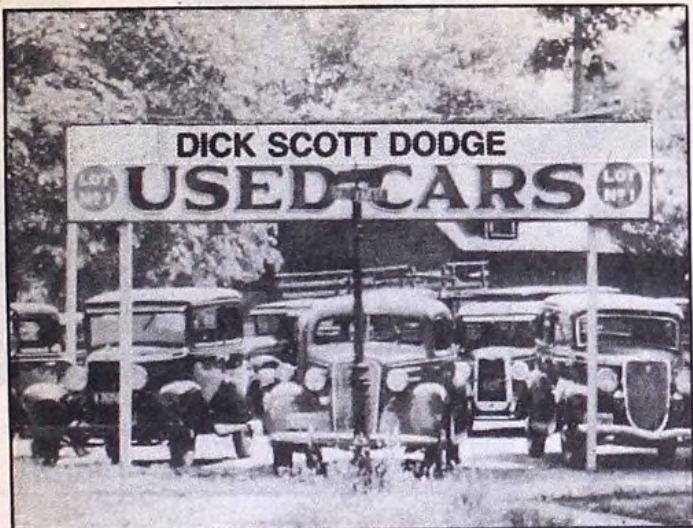

"If anyone wants to be very successful in their business they have to work as hard as their employees," she said.

"I've got a good teacher," Tibus said of Massey.

The Saturn dealership will be located behind Don Massey Cadillac on Plymouth Road, Plymouth. It is scheduled to open in late November.

"We turned over the first shovel of dirt," she said.

"Now I'm ready to turn the key," Tibus said.

The exercise of choice

By MARY SHIRODA

Walking is the exercise of choice. That's the word from medical experts who conclude walking provides psychological as well as physical benefits such as strengthening of the heart and lungs, increasing high density lipoproteins, decreasing blood pressure and relieving stress.

Walking is considered an aerobic exercise if it raises the heartbeat for at least 20 consecutive minutes, and if it's completed at least three times a week, according to Dr. Fred Severyn, associate medical director for Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan.

But fitness doesn't happen overnight.

"Too often people believe that with a concentrated effort they can become fit in a few short weeks, or even months," said Severyn. "If we exercise harder than our bodies can accept, we're more likely to sustain injuries.

"It's the gradual building of strength and fitness and the gradual weight losses and smaller measurements that are the most enduring."

Severyn said the following simple formula can be used to find out how fast you should walk for safe aerobic exercise: Subtract your age from 220. Your maximum heartbeat rate should not exceed 85 percent of that figure. The minimum is 65 percent of that figure.

A less scientific way to determine if you're exercising at the proper heartbeat rate is to see if you can talk comfortably with someone. If you can't, you're overdoing it.

You should feel tired, but good, after an effective exercise, says Severyn.

Regular screening necessary

Health organizations such as the National Cancer Institute agree all women over the age of 50 should be screened annually for breast cancer.

Beginning at age 50, women should have both a breast examination and a mammogram every year.

The mammogram is the best method for detecting breast cancer in its earliest stages -- before cancer spreads and often before the tumor can be felt.

Detecting cancer at an early stage means a higher chance of survival and perhaps less drastic surgery.

Women should ask their physician for the name and location of a mammography center that uses equipment specifically designed for this examination.

Costs can vary from $50 to $100. Most insurers do not cover mammography for screening, but do cover it for diagnosis, once an abnormality is suspected.

For more detailed information, call the National Cancer Institutes toll free hotline at 1-800-4-CANCER.

Sharing health costs

If all citizens are to have affordable health insurance, a House Republican task force recently concluded that health care costs should be spread evenly among public and private sectors of Michigan.

An estimated 1.5 million people in the state were uninsured in 1987, said State Representative Gerald Law, a member of the House Republican Task force on Affordable Health Care for the Uninsured.

"Families without insurance face financial ruin even with one incident of hospitalization," Law said. "The inability to obtain proper care leads to chronic poor health, especially for people with diabetes, hypertension and respiratory illnesses."

Among changes recommended by the task force is a "Caring for Kids" program, which would serve approximately 254,000 state children.

The program would provide primary health care benefits to enrolled children at no cost to their families.

The task force also proposes to establish incentives for physicians to provide charity care to the uninsured, such as protection against civil liability when providing free assistance to people not covered by health insurance or Medicaid.

House Republicans have already introduced legislation to implement some of the task forces recommendations.

Oakwood is Advanced Medicine

Magnetic Resonance Imaging

Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) is a breakthrough diagnostic tool being used routinely at Oakwood Hospital today. MRI allows physicians to "see" into the body without x-rays, sound waves or surgery. As the name implies, Magnetic Resonance Imaging uses a strong magnetic field to produce multi-dimensional images of the inner structure of the body. The patient experiences no pain.

Oakwood provides patients access to MRI as well as the more traditional diagnostic procedures available at your physicians office or local Oakwood facility. MRI can reveal disorders much earlier in the course of a disease. In many cases, this early detection results in simpler and more effective treatment.

Oakwood Health Services is one of the largest health care systems in Michigan, with five hospitals, more than 30 local health care and specialty centers and more than 1,000 physicians in every major health care specialty and subspecialty. Oakwood will serve more than half a million patients this year.

Dietician shares healthy secrets

BY MARY SHIRODA

Cynthia Rutkowski, a registered dietitian at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, has been "moonlighting" for the past two years as a host on the award-winning cable television program, "Food for Health."

One of four dietitians on the show, Rutkowski volunteers her time script-writing, producing and interviewing guests.

"Food for Health" received the 1990 Best Access Show Award from Maclean Hunter Cable TV and the Michigan Dietetic Association's 1990 Public Relations Award for the most outstanding public relations project by a registered dietitian in the state of Michigan.

"We come up with the ideas," she said. "We find the guests. We've done some of the producing and directing."

"Food for Health" is brought to viewers by a host of volunteers.

Employed as a dietitian at Annapolis Hospital since 1975, Rutkowski said she used to like to cook, and was interested in working in the health field, but "didn't have the stomach for health care." Becoming a dietitian was the perfect way for her to satisfy her desire to help people.

For years Rutkowski has been volunteering her time and energy speaking to groups such as TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly), Girl Scouts and senior citizens about good nutrition. A television program provided the opportunity to educate even more people.

Among guests that have appeared on "Food for Health" was Dr. John Eckenrode, a Wayne oncologist who talked about current cancer treatments.

"We're finding more and more that what you eat affects your health," Rutkowski said.

The dietitians demonstrate recipes that are healthy yet pleasing to the palate. On holidays they show how to "de-fat" cholesterol and saturated fat-laden foods.

"You should skin a turkey before baking it," Rutkowski suggested. She admitted that her own family "didn't like the looks of a turkey baked without its skin," but that it was a much healthier way to prepare it.

Viewers can call in to the program the first Monday of every month with their questions about nutrition. The program is filmed live. Two separate programs are produced every month and shown twice a week.

On a recent program the dietitians toured a grocery store with a representative from the American Medical Association.

"We showed folks how to look for the fat content on the label," Rutkowski said, pointing out that a product can say "cholesterol free" yet still be loaded with fat.

Having earned a bachelor's degree in nutrition from Mercy College, Rutkowski went on to earn a master's degree from Central Michigan University. In addition to her work at the hospital, the television program, and group lectures, Rutkowski volunteers for the Heart Association and the Cancer Association.

"They're a wealth of information," she said.

There is clearly a "correspondence between sodium intake and increased blood pressure," she said. "The scariness is that high blood pressure is the silent killer. People often don't know they have it until it's too late." She said that the American Heart Association suggests limiting salt intake to 2 grams a day, based on an average daily caloric intake of 2,000 calories.

Unfortunately much of the snack food that Americans love is full of salt and saturated fats.

"We push popcorn," Rutkowski said, adding that unbuttered popcorn made in a hot-air popper is the healthiest. "You can add your own seasonings afterward."

However, anyone who has ever

attempted to season unbuttered popcorn soon learns that the seasoning simply filters down to the bottom of the bowl. Rutkowski has the solution to that problem.

Seasonings, like butter substitute and parmesan cheese, stick to popcorn that has been lightly sprayed with a vegetable spray, such as "Pam."

On upcoming "Food for Health" programs, Rutkowski said they plan to feature health news from the American Heart Association. They also will focus on the benefits of exercise.

"Food for Health" airs Monday nights at 6:30, and Wednesday nights at 7:00. Viewers can call the television station at 782-0351 the first Monday of the month to ask health and diet-related questions.

Below is a carrot dip recipe that was presented on one of the programs that Rutkowski said is "really good with Wheat Thins."

Carrot dip

1 cup shredded raw carrots
1 8 1/2 ounce can of crushed pineapple, drained
1/3 cup seedless raisins
1/4 cup nonfat plain yogurt
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

In medium bowl combine ingredients. Cover and chill in refrigerator. Serve with low-salt crackers. Two tablespoons of spread with 4 crackers contain 65 cholesterol-free calories.

Giving your 'tired old dogs' a break from pain

BY MARY SHIRODA

It's not easy to put your best foot forward when it's no longer your best foot.

After a hard day of walking on scorching sidewalks and standing in long lines, there are a number of ways to soothe those tired dogs, according to Howard Kane and Nathan Krinsky, doctors of podiatric medicine in Westland.

"The best thing to do is to use alternating warm and cool foot soaks," Krinsky said.

Changing the water temperature helps stimulate circulation, as long as the water does not become too hot, he said.

Elevating the feet also helps to reduce swelling by "bringing blood flow back into the veins," Krinsky said.

A foot massage is another way to bring relief.

"Wiggle your toes," said Kane, "then work your way down the foot from one end to the other. It helps to relax muscles in the bottom of the foot and stimulates relaxation. It feels good too, especially when someone else does it." If you plan to be more active than normal, take a few preventative measures to avoid getting sore feet or blisters.

Kane advises wearing "a good walking shoe and cotton or cotton-wool blend socks that soak up moisture." He also recommended adding a little sprinkle of foot powder or baking soda into your shoes first.

To avoid foot injury, Krinsky urges people to not run around barefoot, even in the house, especially if you are a diabetic.

Diabetics lose sensation in their feet, said Krinsky. They may step on a piece of glass and not realize it. A resulting infection could be dangerous, he said.

Wearing proper shoes is the best prevention to avoid overstressed feet, the doctors said. ■

Old malady rears its ugly head again

BY MARY SHIRODA

In the 1970s health officials hoped that the telltale signs of measles would go out with the 80s.

Unfortunately, the dreams of eliminating measles have not materialized.

"It's gone in the other direction," said Donald Lawrenchuk, medical director for the Wayne County Health Department.

"More cases have been reported (to date) this year than all of last year," he said.

Statewide, there have been 300 reported cases of measles as of June this year.

Last year more than 2,500 cases of measles were reported each in Illinois, California, Ohio and Texas, according to the American Academy of Pediatrics. The disease caused 17 deaths in California and 10 in Texas.

Reasons for the sudden measles epidemic are complex and myriad.

Natalia Tanner, medical director at the Romulus Adolescent Health Center, said though there are mandatory requirements for immunizing children before they enter school, not all states have the same policies.

"Ninety-five percent of all school-age kids are immunized" in the United States, said Tanner, who is also a clinical associate professor at Wayne State University. But less than "one-quarter of American preschoolers have had the vaccines."

Another problem contributing to the measles epidemic is that no vaccine is ever 100 percent effective.

"The mumps-measles-rubella vaccine has an efficacy rate of 95 percent," Lawrenchuk said.

Plus, measles has a 90 percent attack rate, meaning anyone not properly vaccinated has a 90 percent chance of contracting this disease which is transmitted through the air.

Availability of the vaccine is yet another problem.

"There's not enough vaccine on the planet Earth to immunize even the state of Michigan alone," Lawrenchuk said.

The cost of the vaccine has also made it difficult for the people who have no insurance to have their children properly immunized. Mothers, who have three or four children often make decisions whether to buy groceries or have their children vaccinated, Lawrenchuk said.

The vaccine may cost from $40 to $90.

Manufacturers liability insurance along with administering costs add to the price of the vaccine.

In an effort to combat the measles epidemic, the Wayne County Health Department sent out news letters to Wayne County physicians, hospitals, and clinics outside the Detroit area, that included time tables for measles vaccinations and updated recommendations for the vaccine based on Center for Disease Control and AAP findings.

CDC and AAP jointly decided that a second dose of the measles vaccine should be administered to anyone who was born after Jan. 1, 1957, who has never had measles.

Up until the end of 1989 parents were required to have their children immunized at 18 months of age. Now, according to CDC and AAP, a child should be immunized against measles at 15 months.

CDC recommends that children be given a booster shot between ages 4 and 6. AAP recommends the second immunization be administered after age 11.

Congressman John Dingell and Senator Carl Levin are asking Congress to find dollars for the second dose of vaccine, said Lawrenchuk, adding that currently less than one percent of health care dollars are spent on preventative medicine.
